To Whom It May Concern:

Utility Technicians, Inc., an underground water and wastewater specialty contractor, has had the good fortune of working with Booth, Ern, Straughan & Hiott, Inc. (BESH Engineering) for ten years on numerous construction projects.

The success of any project depends in large measure on the team assembled and the team's ability to communicate and work collaboratively towards the goal. The principals at BESH are responsive to the needs of a project and are always prepared to identify options and solutions to challenges that will inevitably occur. BESH Engineering has a reputation for good management skills, capable, prepared, and easy to work with staff members, strong knowledge of codes and requirements, and timely and successful completion of projects.

It is because of their high standards of performance and professionalism that we are pleased to recommend BESH Engineering as a partner on construction projects in Central Florida.

Sincerely,
